

Elif Çelik • Analyst

Elif Çelik has a business administration bachelor degree from Middle East Technical University. Afterwards, she pursued a joint master degree on research and innovation in higher education that she found a chance to experience innovation and higher education systems of Austria, Finland, China and Germany on site.

Her master's thesis is on Institutional Level Practices for Successful University Technology Transfer which takes German universities as case study.

Upon graduation, she worked at Quality Development Department of Open and Distance Education Faculty, Istanbul University, and involved in the EFQM project. Meanwhile, she was marketing and strategy leader of an early stage start-up for a year. Currently, she is working as a business development specialist in Entrepreneurship and Innovation Center (İTU GİNOVA) and a PhD candidate in the department of management at Istanbul Technical University.

She focuses on techno entrepreneurship ecosystems as well as the stages of start-ups from early stage to growth and internationalization.

Elif Çelik

+90 505 110 2598

elif.celik@volitanconsulting.com